RPT Environmental, Social, and Governance Mission Statement

RPT Realty's (RPT) mission is to positively impact the communities where we work and operate through our Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) initiatives. We will accomplish this by holding ourselves and our stakeholders to the highest standards, conducting business in an ethical and transparent manner and operating with integrity and accountability. We believe this will result in a long-term sustainable business model that creates value for our shareholders and equity with our stakeholders.

Message from the CEO

Our ESG platform together with our core values of excellence, innovation, integrity, teamwork, and empathy has allowed us to be resilient and unyielding in the face of the unprecedented times that we all experienced in 2020. Strengthening our ESG platform has become more important than ever. The purpose of our inaugural Corporate Sustainability Report is to demonstrate our commitment to be disciplined stewards of ESG principles through transparent, consistent, and reliable reporting of our ongoing progress. Doing what is good for our world is also doing right by our stakeholders.

Looking back on 2020, we cannot overstate the impact of the COVID-19 global pandemic on our business and the communities in which we operate. While the pandemic and resulting government mandates slowed the implementation of some of the ESG initiatives planned for 2020, it also provided us the opportunity to think strategically about ways to strengthen our relationships with our tenants and communities, resulting in a newfound level of collaboration that has been critical to ensuring the ongoing success of our collective ecosystem. Early in the pandemic, we implemented a program to assist our tenants in optimizing the benefits from the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act. We also donated several thousand meals to support school lunch programs, at-risk populations, essential workers, and nursing home employees in local communities. We helped many of our tenants re-open safely by adding nearly four miles worth of social distancing floor markers, distributing hundreds of thousands of masks, and increasing health and safety protocol signage at our centers.

We also focused on the health and safety of our own team. About a year prior to pandemic, we established an optional work from home day program which made the transition to a full work from home environment quite seamless especially for working parents whose children were unexpectedly home from school and needed daily parental support with their own remote learning and care. Our technology, tools and processes allowed us to rapidly evolve with the situation real time and with limited disruption. While we are all looking forward to the day we can return to the office, we are prepared and ready to continue to work remotely as long as it takes to ensure the health and safety of our people. In addition to our work from home programs, we have also been working diligently to protect the on-going health and well-being of our employees through weekly wellness emails, COVID-related seminars, and weekly company-wide Virtual Happy Hours.

Although there is more that we are very eager to accomplish, we continue to be bold and make meaningful strides on the ESG front. We committed formally to reduce certain landlord-controlled greenhouse gas emissions by 25% by 2026, lower water consumption by 20% by 2024 and divert 35% of landlord-controlled waste from landfills by 2023. Also, we have formalized our Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DE&I) program through the establishment of a dedicated task force along with goals covering talent, culture, and community outreach to name a few. Finally, we understand that the strength of the ESG platform comes down to attracting, retaining, and supporting high performing, high character-oriented people to carry out our unwavering commitment of being best-in-class stewards of ESG principles. In 2020, we continued to place future RPT leaders in a twelve-month professional development program, underscoring RPT's commitment to invest in our people, our most important asset.

Looking forward, we our keenly aware of our critical role in the retail real estate ecosystem and the tremendous opportunity in front of us to continue do good for the world and what is right by our stakeholders. To RPT, this means honoring our corporate purpose of Turning Commercial Ground into Common Ground.

Yours Truly,

Brian H. Harper
PRESIDENT & CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Message from the ESG Taskforce

The RPT Environmental, Social and Governance Taskforce (Taskforce) is proud to be a part of the inaugural Corporate Sustainability Report. The Taskforce was founded in 2019 and includes a cross-functional group of individuals across the company, with representatives from Asset Management, Human Resources, Legal, Marketing, Tenant Coordination, Leasing, Finance, and Accounting. The breadth of departments represented in the Taskforce reflects the importance we place on integrating ESG across RPT's entire business.

Together, the members of the Taskforce identify, plan, and execute ESG initiatives; establish ESG goals; benchmark RPT's ESG performance and promote awareness of ESG matters within RPT, at our shopping centers, and in our communities.

Since its formation, the Taskforce has accomplished several notable achievements, including the filing of RPT's first GRESB submission in 2020 and the establishment of long-term sustainability goals. In just one year, RPT was able to increase its GRESB score in 2021 by 20% after executing a series of ESG improvement plans. In addition to a focus on environmental goals, benchmarking, and efficiencies, the Taskforce played a significant role in formulating RPT's Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (page 24) plans and the company's COVID-19 response in 2020 (page 18).

Please continue reading to learn more about RPT's overall ESG strategy and the Taskforce's ongoing initiatives.

Sincerely,

Michael D. McBride
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF ASSET MANAGEMENT

About RPT Realty

RPT Realty owns and operates a national portfolio of open-air shopping destinations principally located in top U.S. markets. Our shopping centers offer diverse, locally-curated consumer experiences that reflect the lifestyles of their surrounding communities and meet the modern expectations of our retail partners. We are a fully integrated and self-administered REIT publicly traded on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) under the ticker symbol “RPT”.

RPT’s portfolio included 49 properties, comprising 11.9 million square feet at the close of 2020. As of September 2021, the portfolio has grown to include 57 properties comprising 13.4 million square feet. We work with retailers to chart the future of the shopping center by leveraging technology, optimizing distribution points for brick-and-mortar and e-commerce purchases, engaging in best-in-class sustainability programs, and developing a personalized appeal to attract and engage the next generation of shoppers.

Our Strategy

Our primary business goals are to increase operating cash flows and deliver above average relative shareholder return. Specifically, we pursue the following methods to achieve these goals:

1. Capitalize on accretive acquisition opportunities of open-air shopping centers through our balance sheet and complimentary joint venture platforms. We pursue growth through the strategic acquisition of attractively priced open-air shopping centers and subdivide the asset between our balance sheet and our single tenant, net lease joint venture platform, highlighting the meaningful arbitrage opportunities that we can create for our shareholders.

2. Acquire high quality open-air shopping centers and single-tenant, net lease retail assets in the top U.S. metropolitan statistical areas ("MSA"). Our stringent data-driven criteria for acquisition opportunities include a strong demographic profile, educational attainment, tech/life science/university adjacencies, pro-business environments, job growth, high exposure to essential tenants, tenant credit/term and an attractive risk adjusted return.

3. Disciplined capital recycling strategy. We employ a data-driven and rigorous investment management strategy by selectively selling assets with returns and value that have been maximized and redeploying the capital into leasing, redevelopment, and acquisition of properties.

4. Remerchandise and redevelop our assets. Our strategy is to remerchandise and redevelop certain existing properties where we have significant pre-leasing and can improve tenant credit and term, enhance the merchandising mix or augment the consumer experience with an alternative non-retail use, while generating attractive returns, and driving meaningful value creation.

5. Hands-on active asset management. We proactively manage our properties, employ data-driven targeted leasing strategies, maintain strong tenant relationships, drive rent and occupancy, focus on reducing operating expenses and property capex, and attract high quality and creditworthy tenants; all of which enhance the value of our properties.

6. Curate our real estate to align with the current and future shopping center landscape. We intend to leverage technology and data, optimize distribution points for brick-and-mortar and e-commerce purchases, engage in best-in-class sustainability programs and create an optimal merchandising mix to continue to attract and engage our shoppers.

7. Maintain a strong, flexible and investment grade balance sheet. Our strategy is to maintain low leverage and high liquidity, proactively manage and stagger our debt maturities, and retain access to diverse sources of capital to support the business in any environment.

8. Retain motivated, talented and high performing employees. To facilitate the attraction, retention and promotion of a talented and diverse workforce, we provide competitive compensation, best-in-class benefits and health and wellness programs, and by championing programs that build connections between our employees and the communities where they live and at the properties we own.

Stakeholder Goals

With ongoing engagement occurring annually throughout the year, stakeholders can be assured that their voices are heard regarding company matters, including ESG initiatives. In order to capture input, we have made it a priority to allow stakeholders that are not regularly involved in ESG discussions, but have essential input and are effected by the outcomes, to participate in a Materiality Assessment for informing ongoing ESG strategy. The inaugural Materiality Assessment occurred in September 2021 and captured input from the following teams:

- C-suite Leadership
- Board of Directors
- Investors
- Leasing
- Joint venture partners
- Broker
- Third-party

RPT engaged an external consultant to identify the potential list of topics that are material to RPT. These items were informed by industry standards and peer research and were finalized by the RPT Team. Subsequent Materiality Assessments will expand the number of stakeholders included, and material topics will evolve as we continue on our ESG journey.

Environmental

Overview

At RPT, we are determined to become a model environmental steward by implementing measures that will substantially reduce our carbon footprint and consumption of natural resources. The implementation of our company-wide ESG Policy in 2019 served as the foundation for our environmental goals and will also serve as the basis for growth through 2020.

Our sustainability initiatives aim to safeguard the environment and improve the energy efficiency of our portfolio and corporate office locations, while lowering operating costs. Accordingly, we have established measurable goals to reduce energy consumption, water usage and waste production across our portfolio.

Electricity

We aim to reduce electricity consumption in landlord-controlled areas by 25% by 2026 (2018 base year) by installing LED lighting at our shopping centers.

Water

We aim to reduce common area water consumption by 20% by 2024 (base year 2019), saving $100,000 and 15 million gallons of water annually by installing irrigation controls at our shopping centers.[1]

Waste

We aim to divert 35% of all landlord-controlled shopping center waste from landfills by 2023 by instituting recycling programs at our shopping centers.

Greenhouse Gas

Reduce landlord-controlled scope 1 and scope 2 greenhouse gas emissions at our shopping centers by 25% by 2026 (2019 base year).

Additionally, vendors we contract with are expected to reduce their carbon footprint and undertake reasonable sustainability initiatives within their own businesses. We expect our vendors to share our commitment to sustainability by meeting or exceeding the requirements of environmental laws and regulations and promoting acceptable levels of energy consumption, water use and waste management. We also aspire to have our vendors comply with the tenets of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) providing additional transparency to our own stakeholders and investors.

[1]As a result of COVID-19 and related delays, we have revised our original water consumption goal from 2022 to 2024

Strategy

RPT employs a variety of efficiency measures across the portfolio to reduce environmental impact, including an Environmental Management System which monitors energy, water and waste.

Energy Initiatives:

- Installation of high-efficiency equipment
- Smart building technologies
- Roof and wall insulation upgrades
- Window replacements
- Automatic meter readings

Water Initiatives:

- Smart irrigation
- Drought tolerant and native landscaping
- Leak detection systems
- Metering of water subsystems
- Reuse of storm and greywater
- Automatic meter readings

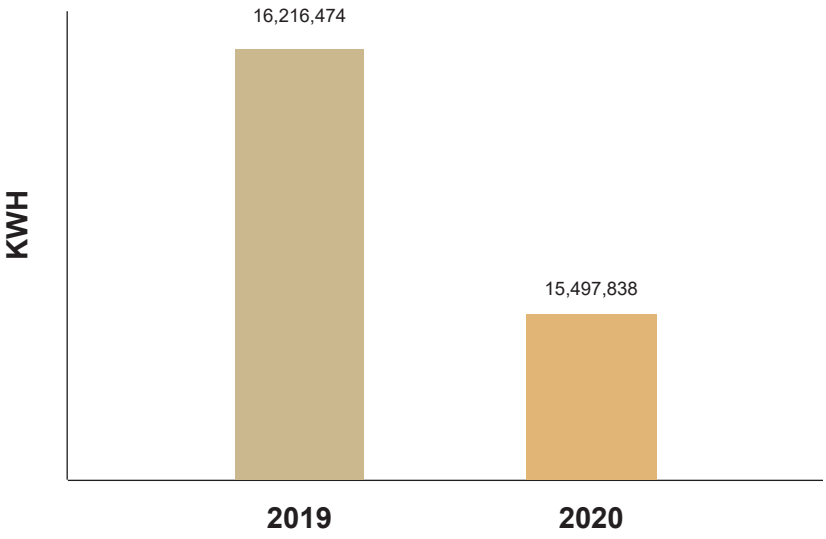

Waste Management Initiatives:

- Composting landscape and food waste
- Ongoing waste performance monitoring
- Recycling programs
- Waste stream audits

Performance

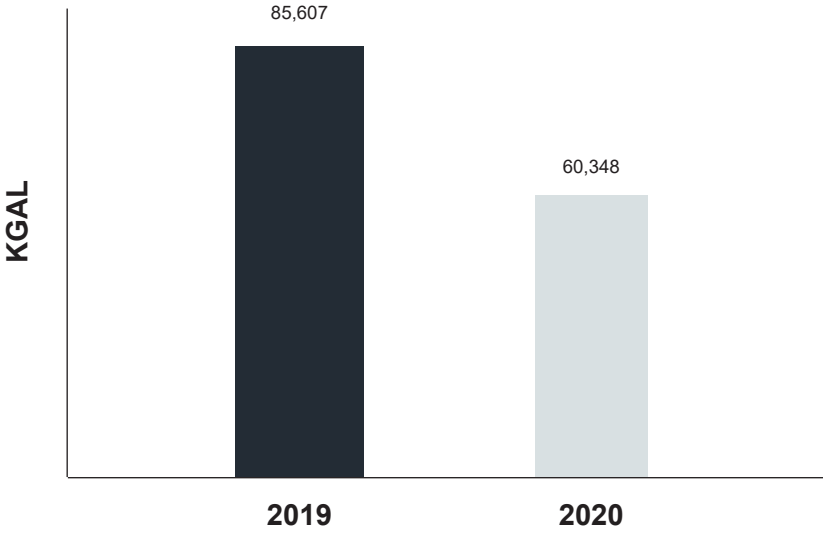

RPT's ESG Policy and environmental efficiency strategies have resulted in reductions to electricity and water consumption year over year between 2019 and 2020.

Common Area Electricity Performance: 2019 to 2020 in KWh

RPT's electricity goal focuses on the reduction of electricity consumption in the common areas of the shopping centers. Same center electricity consumption in the common area decreased by 4.4% from 2019 - 2020.

Common Area Water Performance: 2019 to 2020 in kGal

RPT's water goal focuses on the reduction of the water consumed at shopping centers through common area irrigation. Same center water consumption in the common area decreased by 29.5% from 2019 - 2020. In 2020, RPT significantly reduced landscape plantings because of Covid-19. This year over year reduction is not expected to trend to the same degree in subsequent years and usage may increase between 2020 and 2021.

- Approximately 2,350 pools of water saved

Case Studies

RPT Realty's initiatives in water conservation have created tangible benefits both at the individual property level and across the portfolio. These successes have been achieved through efficiency measures, including the installation of smart irrigation systems and the use of drought-tolerant plants and landscaping, which require significantly less water.

Front Range Village, located in Fort Collins, Colorado, is an RPT property that has done exceptionally well in utility conservation and financial savings. Comparing the first three quarters of 2021 with the same period in 2020, we saved over three million gallons of water, representing an approximately 40% reduction. Measures introduced at Fort Collins in 2020 included the installation of a smart irrigation system, a landscaping upgrade of drought-tolerant native plants, and the removal of high pressure/high use sprinkler heads. As a result of the efficiency measures implemented at this shopping center, we have saved over $9,700 in the first three quarters of the year in common area water usage expense. Additionally, in recognition of our efforts in reducing water consumption, the City of Fort Collins granted the shopping center a three-year waiver in excess water fees, saving an additional $9,300 in common area water expenses and provided a $1,300 rebate check. Future plans at the shopping center include the removal and replacement of additional high-pressure sprinkler heads with drip lines and the installation of native perennial plants and shrubs.

Other properties where RPT has achieved environmental and financial efficiencies through irrigation system upgrades include:

Property Name	Savings Observed
Deerfield Towne Center (Ohio)	The implementation of a smart irrigation system has resulted in 730,000 gallons and $5,145 saved.
Bridgewater Falls (Ohio)	The implementation of a smart irrigation system has resulted in 650,000 gallons and $4,777 saved.

RPT plans on implementing efficiency measures similar to the ones initiated at Front Range throughout the portfolio. By the end of 2021, we will have installed 13 smart irrigation systems with plans to add another 15 over the next two years. We expect these installations, along with the installation of drought tolerant landscaping will save over $100,000 annually in common area water expense across the portfolio.

Social

Overview

RPT's commitment to ESG principles starts with our employees. We aspire to create a culture that intentionally attracts and retains talented employees to work in an engaging and energetic team environment with a shared passion for innovation, transparency, and excellence. We expect our vendors to treat people with respect and dignity, encourage diversity, promote equal opportunity for all, and help create an inclusive and ethical culture.

COVID-19 Response

The COVID-19 pandemic has had a profound impact on virtually every aspect of our lives. In this unprecedented time, RPT has turned to its purpose, Turning Commercial Ground into Common Ground, and to the principles of Humanity, Liquidity, and Innovation to guide our decision-making.

Our experienced team acted swiftly to ensure the safety of our organization by moving to a fully remote work environment for all office employees in early March 2020. Having put in place the required work-from-home infrastructure in 2019, through a program called “RPT Remote”, our employees were well prepared for the transition to a fully remote environment months before the pandemic hit.

Furthermore, our business continuity plan ensured that our operations continued to function safely and without interruption, while we kept our morale strong by staying connected and engaged through company-wide virtual gatherings and activities. We also enhanced our focus on employee well-being and mental health through the introduction of a comprehensive virtual wellness program, in addition to wellness webinars, the “Headspace” meditation app and paid time off for mental health. Furthermore, we also promoted the importance of the team’s physical well-being by holding quarterly “Steps Challenges” and encouraging healthy eating and physical activity. Wellness Wednesdays also brought the team together virtually and allowed employees to participate in remote workout classes together.

Throughout the pandemic, our shopping centers remained open and operational as our tenants rapidly adapted to keep essential goods flowing amid lockdowns, highlighting the importance of well-located neighborhood shopping centers like ours. Understanding the operational and financial challenges brought about by COVID-19, we hosted a CARES Act Webinar and offered complimentary Tenant Concierge services to our small business tenants, giving them direct access to a law firm that assisted them with the government aid application process.

To ensure safe operations and to help prevent the spread of COVID-19 at our centers, we established innovative strategies to keep our team, our tenants and our shoppers safe. We launched a tenant COVID-19 resource page on our website and developed a detailed Reopening Blueprint containing health and safety strategies, recommendations, and guidelines. Collaboration with our tenants was critical to ensuring these measures were effective. We acted quickly to install RPT branded social distancing signage across our portfolio and deployed retailer kits with personal protective equipment to keep the workforce and shoppers healthy. We also launched our proprietary CURBIE Priority Pickup program consisting of dedicated 15-minute “Pickup Only” parking spaces which made pickup and curbside delivery convenient, fast, and - most importantly - safe.

Within our communities, we expanded our charitable efforts by donating over 20,000 meals, some of which were purchased from tenants to support schools and nursing home employees, volunteering virtually and company-matching donations for frontline workers. Our COVID-19 safety measures developed in 2020, continue to remain in place as standard operations at our sites.

COVID-19 Response By the Numbers

In 2020, RPT put the following protocols in place to protect employees, tenants, and the community at large:

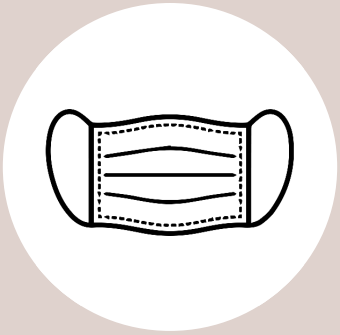

1,500

PPE kits were provided to tenants.

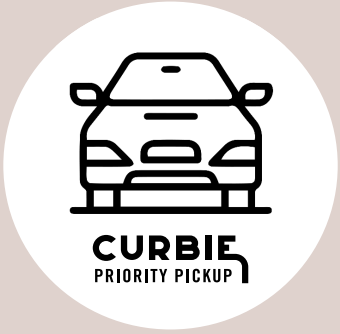

400

hand sanitizer stations and 800 gallons of hand sanitizer were deployed.

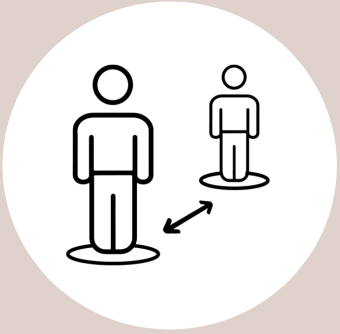

122,900

masks were delivered to tenants for dissemination to patrons, or about 2,500 per center.

1,300

parking spaces were reserved for the CURBIE pick up program.

4,800

floor markers and decals for social distancing were placed across all centers.

Community

Community Engagement

We care deeply about engaging with the communities where we operate. Our General Managers at each site identify opportunities to engage and foster community development, helping enhance our relationship with the local community and tenants.

Each month, we support a local community organization through charitable giving or volunteerism. Charities are identified each month by the RPT Charity Committee, with input from employees. Employees received approved time off to donate their time and effort.

In 2020, our employees took their volunteerism virtual to continue community engagement. We proudly supported more than thirty charitable organizations, donating $35,000 through corporate funds and employee donations. Our giving covered a multitude of causes, including feeding those in need, assisting frontline workers, supporting local causes and aiding our country's disabled veterans.

In the height of the COVID-19 pandemic, we were still able to proudly serve our communities and support our tenants by hosting various socially distant events at select shopping centers. Several key examples of on-site community programs put in place, center on ESG issues, including health and well-being:

- Our normal, well-loved shopping center walking clubs were scaled back for the health and safety of our shoppers. However, in the autumn they did resume when it was safe to do so.

- RPT adapted to the need for social distancing without compromising offerings for the community by allowing fitness tenants to utilize common area space to conduct outdoor classes.

- At one center, we rebranded our typical “Touch-A-Truck” event with a “Spy A Truck” drive-thru style event. Upon entering the shopping center, cars were greeted by “Super Heroes” who passed out swag bags. Each bag contained an “Eye-Spy” challenge interactive worksheet. Kids submitted their entries online and competed to win shopping center gift cards!

- To make our shoppers feel welcomed, Little Free Libraries were installed at several centers. Shoppers can take a book to read or drop off their old favorites for others to enjoy!

- To keep the spirits of our communities lifted, local artists used our vacant storefronts to promote community and inclusion to spread holiday cheer by painting beautiful murals.

Employees

Training

In 2019, we established the RPT Risers Program, a 12-month professional development program targeting areas of leadership including purpose, culture, engagement and emotional intelligence. This ongoing annual program underscores RPT's commitment to invest in the long-term success of our team members, our most important asset.

Diversity Equity and Inclusion (DE&I)

RPT strives toward equality and promotes diversity in the workplace so that all team members feel supported and valued. We maintain a strong policy of equal employment opportunity for all applicants for employment and our employees without regard for actual or perceived race, religion, creed, color, age, national origin, alienage or citizenship status, gender, disability, military status, pregnancy or pregnancy related condition, and predisposing genetic characteristics, as well as all other classifications protected by applicable federal, state and local laws. This practice extends to every phase of the employment process, including recruiting, hiring, job assignment, promotion, compensation, access to benefits and training, discipline, termination, and all other terms and conditions of employment.

As part of our dedication to diversity, equity, and inclusion, RPT formed its DE&I Committee in 2020 with a mission to create an inclusive and safe environment where all team members feel valued and secure. The committee also endeavors to close opportunity gaps for underrepresented groups within the real estate industry.

To kick off RPT's DE&I initiatives, the company fielded a survey from all employees, gauging their feelings on corporate culture, belonging, hiring, recruitment, respect and inclusion. The participation rate was 81%. Results were positive, and showed that 92% of our employees feel like they belong at RPT and 93% feel RPT appreciates all races and ethnicities. To bolster these strong results, RPT retained a third-party consultant to conduct a company-wide mandatory Unconscious Bias Training. The goals of the workshop were to increase our awareness of the impact of unconscious bias, to explore ways to promote inclusion and to develop cultural competence skills. Small group discussions, case studies and experiential exercises engaged employees over the course of the two-day, two-hour trainings. The workshop was customized for RPT, with real-life scenarios and strategies to mitigate bias and increase inclusion. Though conducted virtually, the workshop spurred a great deal of employee engagement and interaction.

The DE&I committee identified five main areas for RPT to focus on for its 2021 DE&I initiatives:

Talent outreach and sourcing

Culture initiatives to bring DE&I education, awareness, and personal perspective into the organization to reduce cultural distance that may be felt among individuals from different backgrounds

Community outreach through bringing DE&I awareness initiatives to various RPT shopping centers

Business integration to strengthen connections with diverse groups through collaborative relationships with external partners who do work at RPT shopping centers, such as vendors and subcontractors

Helping to level the playing field for underrepresented groups within the commercial real estate industry.

RPT Employee Demographics

Under 30	30-50 years	50+ years

Employee Benefits and Wellness

To facilitate the attraction, retention and promotion of a talented and diverse workforce, RPT provides competitive compensation, best in class benefits, and health and wellness programs. We provide competitive compensation packages to our employees, which in addition to base salaries include annual bonuses, stock awards, and participation in a 401(k) Plan with a company match. Corporate Policy

RPT's efforts to uphold strong business ethics are solidified in the RPT Realty Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, which is available on the company website. This document is reviewed annually and updated as needed. All employees receive and formally acknowledge the Code of Conduct on an annual basis.

"Execute with Integrity" is one of our core values. The "Code of Business Conduct and Ethics" reflects our commitment to uncompromising integrity at all levels of the organization and in all of its business relationships and transactions. Towards that end, the standards of conduct are enforced at all organizational levels and communicated to employees. As a result, in 2019 anti-harassment training was implemented, and in 2020, unconscious bias training was conducted.

As an expansion on the internal Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, RPT also employs a Vendor/ Contractor Code of Conduct & ESG Sustainability for ensuring that internal standards are being met by associated organizations and that vendors reflect similar values in terms of ethics and commitment to ESG. The Asset Management vendors are required to acknowledge and agree to abide by the Vendor/ Contractor Code of Conduct & ESG Sustainability prior to commencing any work with RPT.

Overall, company ethics and values are established by CEO, Brian Harper, with the support of the General Counsel, the Head of HR, and the Chief Accounting Officer.

Cybersecurity

RPT has adopted a robust cybersecurity governance program and has implemented policies to mitigate and manage cybersecurity risk. The administration and monitoring for compliance of these policies is the responsibility of the Information Technology Department, as well as the IT Steering Committee that consists of the CEO, CFO, Chief Accounting Officer, EVP of Leasing, EVP of Legal, VP of IT, and all Department heads. To mitigate cybersecurity risk, focuses on the following areas:

- Employees
  RPT believes that security awareness and protection begins with the people of the organization. To foster this approach, we focus on preparing, educating, and training our employees by conducting phishing exercises, cybersecurity skills training, scheduled testing, and impromptu tests.
- Technology
  In 2020, RPT implemented advanced security tools for implementing multiple layers of security:
  - Multi-Factor Authentication on our VPN and Office 365 tenant.
  - Secure Email Gateway that scans, filters, and blocks suspicious/malicious emails, attachments, and links.
  - Labeling of external emails with banners for increased visibility and awareness of potentially risky communications.
  - Advanced end-point protection that blocks unauthorized programs from executing.
- Third Party Monitoring and Review
  RPT partners with third party consultants that provide an objective perspective on the company's cybersecurity procedures. Organizations that RPT works with who have access to proprietary information must uphold all obligations to protect sensitive information according to the RPT Vendor/Contractor Code of Conduct.
  - Penetration tests for external and internal network access are performed annually.
  - RPT also maintains a Security Operations Center (SOC) which provides network security monitoring and alerting.

Governance Structure and Committees

RPT's Board guides RPT's overall strategic plan. The Board is comprised of the Audit Committee, Compensation Committee, Nominating & Governance Committee and the Executive Committee.

RPT recognizes the importance of having a diverse Board comprised of different skill sets, professional backgrounds, ages, ethnicities and genders. Starting in 2018, we focused on refreshing the Board to enhance the depth and breadth of experience of our trustees and to add new perspectives. We have achieved this goal by:

- Adding two women trustees so that 50% of the Board's independent trustees are women.
- Reducing average trustee tenure from 18 years to 7 years.
- Appointing two women committee chairs.

Governance and ESG

In 2019, we formed the ESG Committee which is comprised of RPT leaders and employees throughout our business units. RPT CEO Brian Harper, who is also a trustee, is the executive sponsor of RPT's ESG Program. The ESG Committee sets the agenda, strategy and goals for RPT's ESG Program and makes recommendations for approval by RPT's CEO. The ESG Program's goals, priorities and progress are reported to the Board on a quarterly basis which ensures engagement across RPT's leadership. In addition to the ESG Committee, RPT also has a Steering Committee, which reviews the plans created by the ESG Committee with a focus to ensure ESG proposals are fully integrated with the Company's overall business strategy. The Steering Committee meets on an as needed basis.

We allow all employees to submit proposals to the ESG Committee. This means that ESG projects and focuses can be generated from any level of the company, and the best of these ideas enjoy strong support from RPT's management team to carry them through to fruition.

RPT Risk Governance and Mitigation

RPT understands the importance of risk governance and mitigation. In 2021 RPT intends to implement an Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) program which will be sponsored by RPT's Audit Committee and executive management team, and which will include an internal Risk Committee that governs RPT's operational, financial, and legal risk. ERM is embedded in the fabric of our culture, allowing risk to be considered more openly and enabling us to work horizontally across the Company to manage risk. We believe that this ERM program will allow RPT to effectively and efficiently manage risk for the Company's existing assets and future growth opportunities, positioning us to create value for all of our stakeholders.

Climate Resilience

We recognize the importance of being prepared for existing and future changes to the climate, along with potential climate-driven extreme weather events. We currently maintain “all risk” replacement cost insurance for our buildings, rents and personal property, commercial general liability insurance and pollution and environmental liability insurance. These policies provide coverage against potential losses and allow for recovery from climate-related events. Additionally, we have developed property-specific plans and procedures for high-risk sites that follow local and state codes. We continue to assess the need for adopting additional policies to prepare sites for potential transition risks (policy and legal issues, technological issues, market issues, asset labels and certifications) and additional physical risks (environmental factors and outcomes, extreme weather events) according to changing climate conditions.
